DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 7, 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Dessiatoun et al.

Dessiatoun disclose a heat sink comprising: a thermally conductive base comprised of a variable density graphite foam article 40-48 (see col. 7, line 42) having a first and second opposed surfaces; an electronic component 28 thermally coupled to the second surface of the thermally conductive base; a copper article 14 spread on the second surface of the thermally conductive base; and a copper sleeve 14 (vertical portion) spread between the first and second surfaces; the copper article 14 contacts the electronic component 28.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 3, 8, 10, 13, 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dessiatoun et al.

Dessiatoun discloses the claimed invention except 90% and 25% density of the graphite foam. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have graphite foam density 90% or 25%, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.

Dessiatoun discloses the claimed invention except for the dimensions as claimed in claim 10. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to size the heat sink as claimed, since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the size of a component. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955).

5. Claims 2, 4, 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dessiatoun et al. in view of Gallego et al.

Dessiatoun discloses the claimed invention except the fin structure and the fin structure comprised of 25% of graphite foam.

Gallego discloses the heat sink made of graphite foam and having the fin structure. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have fin structure as disclosed by Gallego in the structure disclosed by Dessiatoun providing minor modification for better heat dissipation. With respect to claim 4, Dessiatoun discloses the claimed invention except fins having 25% of the graphite foam. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have fins comprising 25% of graphite foam, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
